OUR VISION

Today, Special Olympics stands as a leader in the field of intellectual disability and has sharpened the focus on its mission as not just “nice,” but critical, not just as a sports organization for people with intellectual disabilities, but also as an effective catalyst for social change.

WE ARE CHAMPIONS TOGETHER

Establishing sustainable capabilities is a critical focus as we continue to be a transformative power in the lives of all those who are touched by our program. With your help, we hope to continue to build powerful communities of change around our athletes. We hope you will consider how you can generate meaningful opportunities for our athletes.

With your support, we are champions together.
